COVERS RICHEST GOLD AREA IN CALIFORNIA

Thinking Out Loud

By H. M. L.

When the Babes were lost in the Woods, and night overtook them they laid down on the forest carpet and the birds carrying leaves covered them over so that they slept in cosy warmth through the night. That of course is a fairy tale. The reality is that birds do not come to comfort strange creatures in their domain, and often human fathers and mothers fighting to make a place for their own children, forget the babes who are lost and wandering.

In an old California mining camp, now deserted save for the very poor, a few wastrels, and skulkers who fear the law, stands an old, leaking, rickety one-room cabin with a lean-to attached made of boards and scraps of flattened tin cans. A peace officer searching for one of the temporary residents of this wretched region ,one day recently, knocked at the door. No one answered. He knocked several times, finally entered. There was no lock on the door. Not even a latch. In the cabin there were a few boxes apparently used for chairs until they were used for fuel. There were a few dishes, mostly battered tin, with cans helping out. There was a bed, indescribably filthy, and a broken old stove, apparently rescued from some city dump. Along one side of the lean-to was a heap of gunny sacks, ragged old quilts, remnants of clothing. On the floor filth and dirt were a half inch thick. Swine have cleaner habits, the officer concluded, than the family that occupied that shack.

As the officer returned to the road, a woman and four children entered the path to the cabin. On her hip she carried a pale little baby, rapped in a gunny sack. A toddler clung to her skirt. A child perhaps five years old, walked ahead of her, and a four-year-old straggled behind. The children and their mother apparently had never had a bath. While the mother wore an old pair of shoes, the children walked through the cold slush with bare feet. The face of the young mother and those of the children, too, were pinched and prematurely old.

How many babes like these four children live in the woods around Nevada City? How many of these youngsters, clothed in gunny sacking, barefoot in all weather, rarely ever filling their hungry stomachs, reared in filth, sleeping in filth, immersed body and soul in filth, become delinquents and sooner or later are listed as wards of the court?

A few days ago two young boys confessed to the chief of police that they had committed three burglaries. They wanted food, clothing, candy and other things their parents could not give them. What kind of a home they had, we do not know, but suspect, that it was not much better than the one described above.

In Russia, following the revolution, so many children lost their parents by war, famine and pstilence that the waifs finally banded together in what were termed "wolf packs". They waylaid, robbed and killed adult men and women for food and clothing. But children lose their parents in other ways than by war, famine or pestilence. They lose them by divorce, by excessive drink, by accident, and sometimes by murder. The two men killed New Years Day on the outskirts of Grass Valley, left eight fatherless children. One left five, the other three. Then again moronic and feeble minded persons who marry rarely feel any social responsibility for their children.

Children, who, for one reason or another, have been bereft of one or both parents, and have been taken to raise by indigent relatives, children whose parents are so near the brute level in intelligence that they never know the ordinary decencies of life, and children whose father or mother, or both, become habitual drunkards, nine times in ten become what the law designates as delinquent.

What to do about it? There is plenty to be done about it. Rotary clubs in many cities are doing something about it. The Nevada City Rotary club is now considering what can be done to reduce the number of delinquents. There were over 250 cases of child delinquency in Nevada County in 1938. It's a big job to tackle it. It is really a county-wide job. But it is time a beginning were made.

BILL WRIGHT IN JAPAN FINDS U. S. HOTEL COMFORT

Jan. 7, 1939.

Mr. Harley M. Leete,
Nevada City Nugget,
Dear Editor:

We arrived at Yokohama, Japan, December 24, 37, and after touring the land of Nippon, departed therefrom at Koke at 12:30 today on Empress of Asia of the Canadian Liine.

Everything is modern in Japan. First class hotels, with all American food and cooking. Transportation adequate and of the best, with time schedules maintained to the second.

Trains, about 50-50 electric and steam, with classification of first, second and third, all good however. The distinction being reflected by our local day coaches and Pullman and streamlined flyers.

While were were the only two foreigners in the diner and to obtain seats therein we waited 2 hours after securing our turn tickets, nevertheless all cooking and food were American style, and of Fairmont Hotel quality, except price, which was for two, yen 2.40, or 90c Yankee money.

Every city has from one to three daily papers printing in English, giving not only local news and markets but the news and markets of the world.

The news is briefly and conservatively stated, no screaming black head lines and no criminal news other than a brief mention of sensational crimes of other lands.

Japan, all agrre is safest place in which to live or travel in the world; and has less crime than any other country.

English courses are compulhory in all high school students and English is fairly well spoken by the employees of all hotels, and by one or more of the employees in all departments of the large department stores.

Of course to the tourists, the ancient temples and shrines of which there are 150,000 in Japan, are the principal objects of interest, a few of which are very beautiful and marvelous although built from 800 to 1300 years ago.

The climate and mountain scenery are very similar to that of Nevada City, and to see Japan in all the beauty of colors, flowers, blossoms and unlimited fields of grain, spring or autumn is the time.

Sincerely yours,
W. E. WRIGHT.

A delegation of Sierra county citizens appeared before the supervisors at their session the first of the month in Downieville and requested that they do all in their power to keep the Yuba Pass highway open to the Sierra Buttes Ski Club. The club is 18 miles northeast of Downieville. The State Chamber of Commerce has pledged their cooperation to the club to do all possible to keep the road open throughout the winter. There is about four feet of snow at the site which offer splendid snow sports.

L. A. ARMSTRONG IS VICTIM OF AUTO ACCIDENT

Leonard A. Armstrong, mining engineer of this city, died in Jones Memorial Hospital at an early hour Wednesday morning from a crushed chest suffered when accidently struck by the car of Mrs. C. H. Doolittle of Gold Flat while she was crossing Gault bridge. Mrs. Doolittle's car skidded on the icy pavement and in attempting to put on the brake she hit the foot throttle and the car leaped forward striking Armstrong who was walking along the pedestrian lane. Mrs. Doolittle took him to Dr. W. Reed's office where it was found he had suffered a broken shoulder but later an X-ray at Jones Memorial hospital revealed he had a crushed chest.

His brother, Gilbert Armstrong of Yakima, Washington, came down shortly after his brother was taken to the hospital and visited him for a time and returned home. He has a sister, Miss Alice Armstrong in Iowa.

Armstrong was a prominent figure in mining circles. At one time he operated the Cassidy mine at Grass Valley which is now a portion of the Empire group. He has mined in this district about 30 years. With family members he resided at Omega where his father mined. His father later had charge of the Red Ledge mine at Washington for a considerable period. Armstrong left here about 25 years ago and mined in Cripple Creek, Colo., and also had charge of a large mine in Arizona. He returned to Nevada City about four years ago and has inspected a number of properties since returning, later taking up a claim at Nevada City's southern limits and spending much time developing it with a partner.

Leonard Armstrong was highly esteemed and leaves a wide circle of friends to grieve at his passing. He was a member of the Masonic lodge, Isabella Shrine and a 32nd degree Mason.

The body is at Holmes Funeral Home in Nevada City with funeral arrangements awaiting word of relatives.

GIFT TO OUSTOMAH LODGE

Mrs. Ida McGonigal presented Oustomah Lodge of Odd Fellows her grandfather's regalia when he was an officer of Mountain Rose Lodge in Rough and Ready. The lodge later disbanded. It proved quite interesting to the members as they had never seen a costume like it. Mrs. Magonigal stated that her late mother had often spoken of giving the regalia to the lodge before her death several months ago. The grandfather if living would be 85 years of age, the highly ornamented costume much older, one lodge member stating it was approximately 100 years old. The lodge treasures the suit.

GRASS VALLEY BULLION MINE

Trucks are moving about 70 tons of ore per day from the Grass Valley Bullion mine to the Idaho Maryland mill near Grass Valley. The principal work is proceeding on the 2,200 foot level reached through a 500 foot winze from the 1,700 foot level. The surface shaft descends to the 1,500 foot level and at a point 1,200 feet from the 1,500 foot station a winze goes down to the 1,700 making three hoists of ore necessary. Electric trains haul ore on underground levels where it is mined in the veins. The mine is operated by Idaho Maryland mines corporation under an agreement with the Grass Valley Bullion Mines, Inc. H. Dennis is superintendent and Phil Folck is foreman at the mine.

SEEKS REMOVAL OF ABANDONED ORCHARD

L. G. Lageson, county agricultural commissioner, has brought an action against the Idaho Maryland Mines company to compel that corporation to remove or destroy more than a hundred acres of abandoned pear orchards. He alleges that the orchards are infested with blight and codling moths and are a menace to other orchards in the county. The statutes require that such orchards shall be removed or destroyed, Lageson states, and he asks for a court order to require the company to comply with the law.

RAINBOW GIRLS TO GIVE PROGRAM FOR LOCAL O. E. S.

There were about fifty members and visitors present at a meeting of Evangeline Chapter, O. E. S., Tuesday evening in Masonic hall when District Deputy Lura West of Auburn paid her official visit. A portion of the program was the grouping of star points conductresses and associate conductress into a heart, all led by Mrs. Doris Foley who had a huge red paper heart over her dress. They presented a gift to the visiting officer Mrs. Foley carrying the present while the others carried valentines. Mrs. Margaret Bosworth sang a solo. The lodge and banquet rooms were decorated in accord with a St. Valentine theme. Cakes were in red and white some being heart shaped.

At the next meeting Tuesday, February 21 the Auburn Assembly of Rainbow Girls will be present to put on the work of their chapter. Evangeline Chapter is thinking very seriously of instituting an assembly here and the Masons have signified a willingness to assist. The Masons have been invited to be present next Tuesday to witness the work of the Rainbow Girls.

SKI FEDERATION MEET ON RED MT. SATURDAY

The International Ski Federation will hold a meet at Cisco this week end and hundreds of Nevada City and Grass Valley enthusiasts are planning to attend.

The downhill race will be held on Red Mountain, near Cisco Grove, on Saturday afternoon starting at two o'clock. Several stars of the Auburn club are expected to enter this event. Roy Mikkelsen being the best known.

DOWN TO 10 DEGREES

Thermometers were sent tumbling in Nevada City yesterday morning when it was found that at about daylight one registered ten degrees above zero at the Gomer Hopkin home on Nimrod street. At about 8 o'clock the thermometer registered 13 degrees above zero on Park avenue and later it was noted that the Sauvee thermometer was 14 degrees. The National Hotel thermometer registered 18 degrees above zero.

$910 DAMAGES ASKED

S. A. and Mabel Marler have asked for $910 damages in a suit filed in the superior court against George Mason and Annie Eastland as the result of a crash on highway 40 on Sept. 3, 1938. Marlers claim that their car was hit by Annie Eastland diving Mason's car. They assert that careless driving was the cause of the accident. The suit was filed by Peters, Millington and Clewe of Oroville.

The CCC boys at Camp Grass Valley are working clearing the great Ponderosa Way in their yearly clean up campaign. This trail passes about five miles to the west of the camp. This trail, started about five years ago is to act as a fire break and is held at a certain elevation in the mountains on the east side, from one end of the state to the other.

Mrs. Mable Hamilton went to Colfax last Sunday evening and met her daughter in law, Mrs. B. C. Hutchison of Camps Pass, Montana. Mrs. Hutchison and husband reside on his large cattle ranch seventy five miles from town and realize what it means when storms prevent them getting out.

COMMITTEE TO HELP IN BATTLE ON DELINQUENCY

The Rotary club yesterday continued its topic: "What to do about the increasing delinquency of children in Nevada City." After hearing Probation Officer A. W. McGagin, Judge George L. Jones and Rudy Abrecht, Y. M. C. A. secretary for the Mountain Division with headquarters at Marysville, the club decided that a committee of three should be appointed to join with other civic or fraternal organizations in forming a Coordinating Council. Councils of this character have been successful in other communities in reducing markedly the number of juvenile delinquents.

President Andy Holmes appointed on the committee DeWitt Nelson, H. E. Kjorlie and Bill Cain. The committee is to get in touch with other organizations to secure their co-operation in forming and carrying out a two fold plan, as Judge Jones suggested, first to prevent delinquency and second to cure it when it does occur.

Mr. McGagin opened the discussion with a statement of the juvenile delinquency problem as it exists, and the urgent need for some remedial or corrective action by community endeavor. He stated that boys were much more a problem than girls.

Mr. Abrecht gave an interesting address on methods used in his work in the Y. M. C. A. He stated that investigation and long study had revealed that in the boy's mind, the gang holds first place, the home second, and school third. Way down at the foot of the list of the boy's preferances he stated, is the Sunday school. This order of preference is due to the relative amount of time he spends with his gang, in his home, or at school. In the Sunday school he spends least time of all.

To reach boys and often girls, it is necessary to get in touch with their gangs and get them interested as a group in healthful sports, in games, contests, and gradually in changing the direction of their thoughts and energies. Character, he said, cannot be taught or caught, but it can, by much patience, be wrought.

At an adjourned meeting of the club, Bill Cain gave a brief summary of the way Gridley handled the juvenile problem. Judge Jones offered to cooperate in any way that would improve conditions that now produce delinquency.

It was suggested at the meeting that means might be found to lease the Armory hall from the fire department, for games, sports and constructive projects, in order to attract boys and girls that now "hangout" at street corners in the evening, because there is nothing else they can do.

HYDRAULIC ASSN. TO MEET IN AUBURN

Abraham Lincoln

This week America honors the memory of one of her greatest sons on the 130th anniversary of his birth. And since Lincoln, just as we of this generation, was destined to live in an era of uncertainty and crisis, it is worth speculating on the attitude he would take on major problems of today. What would that gaunt, sad-faced man think of attempts by Nazi and Fascist sympathizers to infect Americans with the ideologies of dictatorships, for instance?

Curiously applicable would be the very words he voiced at Gettsyburg: "government of the people, by the people, for the people shall not perish from this earth!" Lincoln's profound belief in the ultimate triumph and endurance of Democracy was asserted in 1861 — when the lightening of Civil War already was flashing from field guns: "Why should there not be a patient confidence in the ultimate justice of the people? Is there any better or equal hope in the world?

Today that same faith and hope guarantee American Democracy. With the nation still battling recession, experiencing unfortunate misunderstandings, among groups and factions—witnessing the serious schism in the ranks of labor, and threats of international war, it is reassuring to remember Lincoln's words.

"With malice toward none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right—let us strive to finish the work we are in—to do all which may achieve peace among ourselves and with all nations." So long as Democracy lives, Lincoln will live in memory as one of its high apostles. As was said of him at the moment of his death: "Now he belongs to the Ages." —Contributed.

Scout Ideals

As one way of vitalizing the theme "Scouting Carries On American Ideals which is the keynote of the current Boy Scout Week, marking the 29th birthday of the Boy Scout Movement in this country, the Senior Scouts, members of the Boy Scouts of America are being asked to commit themselves to a new Citizenship Dedication recently written for them by the Chief Scout Executive, Dr. James E. West, because of his conviction that young men with Scout training are a great potential force for preserving and advancing what are recognized as the best things in America's life.

Senior Scouts have, not alone by age, but by special training as Scouts, acquired a definite and distinctive citizenship standing. These involve not only many pleasures and privileges but definite responsibilities to cooperate and render service; to understand and care about other people; to be tolerant and respectful of the rights of others; to be courageous. self-reliant and vigilant in showing faith in America and faith in God.

Dr. West's charge to these young men is well worth quoting—"As Scout citizens, accept your responsibility for extending among those with whom you come in contact their understanding and appreciation of the ideals of Scouting and the principles that have made us, and in my judgment will always keep us, a great democracy."

The existence of a group of 8,400,000 present or former members of the Scout Movement, all pledged to that conception of citnzenship, is an unmistakable asset in our national life.

BUBBLE AND SQUEAK

BY ROY GRIFFITHS DEETER

LOCAL

We have noticed that the local golf enthusiasts now that winter snows prevent their daily exercise of smacking the little balls about, have turned to skiing on the little slopes of the course, and very nice skiing it must be too from our observation. No spectacular runs, but just gentle runs that are the envy of our very amateur heart.

——oOo——

MUSIC

Note to sheet music collectors. The latest and most jovial of popular numbers seems to be without doubt, "Romance Runs in the Family". Might be hard to get but worth a try.

——oOo——

BOOKS

We have just finished Admiral Byrd's book "Alone." (Putnam) R. G. D. regrets, but we do not like it at all. We don't say it isn't very thrilling and no doubt it is extremely accruate, but we just don't like Dick's attitude. It struck us he was being unselfish and inconsiderate to the point of exasperation. We resent having to go through all his agonies with him especially as we felt it was all very unnecessary. His rescue party could have come for him earlier as easily as not, and anyway we completely failed to understand why it was so essential that he should spend that experimental six months in Little America absolutely all alone. Science, we feel, would have been better served had he not done so. However, this is just our private grouch, read the book, you may agree with him and not with us, and in any event you are sure to find it very interesting.

NATURE

Now is the time to remember your daily good deed, and feed the wild birds. They recognize a bird restaurant with amazing alacrity, and flock around in great numbers. For salad we serve them small pieces of suet and bacon, for entrees bread crumbs, grain and hard boiled egg, and top it off with apples for dessert.

SPORTS

Those of you who missed last Saturday's basket ball game at the Nevada City high school gym certainly missed a marvelous game and a lot of rib-warping laughs. The Elks played a grand game, they really played, but they were no match for the colored Ghosts, who handled the ball like acrobats and prestidigtators. We certainly hope they play here again before too long.

BUBBLE

We wonder if we older-timers around here realize what a little paradise on earth we live in? The thought occurred to us the other day, when talking to some much travelled new comers whose praise for Nevada County was so lavish we felt a mite guilty of some laxity in civic pride. There is of course such a thing as being so close to the picture that one loses perspective.

——oOo——

SQUEAK

But at that, we do wish the new bridge on the Plaza would hurry itself up and get finished, and we also wish something could be done about that very narrow and dangerous cut, especially now that the highway into town has been rerouted along that said cut. It must create an awful impression upon the visitor.

It shall be mandatory upon the contractor to whom the contract is awarded and upon any subcontractor under him, to pay not less than the said specified rates to all laborers, workmen and mechanics employed by them in the execution of the contract.

Each bid shall be made out on a form to be obtained at the Bank of America, Nevada City, California, or at the office of the Architects, 244 Kearny Street, San Francisco, and shall be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check or bid bond for five (5) per cent of the amount of the bid made payable to the order of the Board of Education, Nevada City Unified School District, Nevada City, California; shall be sealed and filed with the clerk of said board, Bank of America, Nevada City, on or before the 18th day of February, 1939, at 1:30 o'clock P. FLUME REPAIR CREW AT LAKE BOWMAN

Telephone communication from Lake Bowman Wednesday that the repair crew sent from Grass Valley to repair the section of the Bowman-Spaulding flume had arrived and were preparing to undertake the heavy replacement which will involve working in deep snow.

Five bents of the flume were broken out. Otherwise the obstruction caused by the avalanche is relatively minor, as the snow sheds over the section of the flume protected it from the flood of debris.

Jack Keleher, in charge of the repair work, stated that temporary boxes would probably be installed in order that water flow might be in part resumed. Such resumption is deemed highly essential to prevent the entire length of the conduit from being blocked by subsequent snow falls. Keleher estimated that two or three days of workable weather would be sufficient time for installing the temporary sections.

The crew which entered the snow fields Tuesday morning by snowshoe spent that night at Camp 19 and continued on to Bowman yesterday morning.

ROBERT REEDER ESSAY CONTEST REPRESENTATIVE

Nevada County will be represented in public speaking contest sponsored by the Native Sons of the Golden West by Robert Reeder of the Nevada City high school. He will speak in Sacramento this week when the speaker for the Northern California district will be selected. The winner will speak at the final tryout at the Grand Parlor to be heeld in Santa Cruz in April. The contest is open to all students in California high schools. Young Reeder chose for this subject for his speech, "William Lewis Manley, Hero of Death Valley."

The winner of the local or school contests and the three highest receive a silver medal. The winner of the county contest receives a gold medal. The winner of the state contest receives a special gold medal. Reynald J. Bianchi, chairman of the committee, of San Francisco has charge of the contests. The medals for local and county contests in this county will be supplied by the two Native Sons parlors.

AVALANCHE CRASHES SECTION OF N.I.D. FLUME

Jack Keleher, mountain division superintendent for the Nevada Irrigation District, came up from his home in Auburn Tuesday and took a picked crew of ten men to the snow avalanche which took out three sections of metal flume two miles below Bowman dam. They drove as far as Bear Valley and from there traveled on skiis over a distance of about 20 miles. It is expected it will take five days to repair the flume.

Miss Dorothy Worthley received a call to report at the state department of agriculture and left Wednesday for Sacramento. She started to work yesterday. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Worthley of Nevada City and held the position of stenographer for Attorney Ward Sheldon until recent weeks when he took over the office of Attorney W. E. Wright.

THREE ISSUES THREATEN SPLIT IN LEGISLATURE

By CLEM WHITAKER

Rivaling even the impending "Battle of the Budget" as a probable cause of bitter legislative warfare, conflicting plans of relief administration and relief financing promise to stir up a feud in the state legislature, when the law makers reconvene next month, that will disrupt legislative business for weeks on end.

One of the most critical problems confronting the legislature, the relief issue has raised three major points of controversy.

1—The size of the state's relief appropriation for the coming two years. Dr. H. Dewey Anderson, state relief administrator, asked for $100,000,000, but Governor Olson's budget reduced the amount to $73,660,000. Many legislators will insist that further drastic reduction be made—possibly to a total of $50,000,000.

2.—The production for use program planned by Dr. Anderson to provide work and subsistence for persons now on relief. One of the bills submitted to the legislature as part of this program would permit sale of production for use commodities to state, county and other governmental institutions in competition with products of private industry. Business groups are expected to oppose this phase of the plan on the contention that it would place the state in competition with private business and cause new unemployment.

3—The program submitted by the Coordination Committee on Relief of the State Chamber of Commerce to consolidate all relief and social welfare activities of the state and county governments. This plan would give the counties control of administrattion of relief to employables (subject to general state supervision); would make the state responsible for migrants. The program would also "up" state costs and reduce county costs—requiring that the state furnish 75 per cent of all funds for direct relief and aid payments, and the counties 25 per cent. Tax groups which contribute heavily to state government will oppose the program on the ground that it would require new state tax levies over and above those contemplated in the Olson budget.

And then to add fuel to the relief fire, it is altogether probable that the legislature will debate several proposals to purge relief rolls of the chistlers and professional paupers. Two suggestions have been made—one that relief recipients be denied the right to vote until they again become seuf supporting; a second that the names of all persons on relief rolls be published once a month in newspapers of their respective counties to assist in weeding out the undeserving. Sponsors of this latter plan argue that delinquent tax lists are published and that the same principle should be applied to the relief problem.

JAPAN ON ROAD TO DICTATORSHIP SAYS PROFESSOR

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 9.—Japan has at last removed the velvet glove of nominal civilian government from her mailed fist of military control.

This is the observation of Dr. H. Arthur Steiner, assistant professor of political science on the Los Angeles campus of the University of California, who declares that the resignation of Prince Fumimaro Konoye as premier of Japan and the appointment of the army's Baron Kiichiro Hiranuma as his successor will result in significant changes in Japanese domestic and foreign policy.

"The surprising thing is not the victory of the military group but the fact that it was delayed so long," he said. "Although Konoyye kept his post in the early stages of the Chinese crisis to indicate the unity of the nation, he has since made a number of unsuccessful attempts to resign."

Commenting upon the likely change in foreign policy, Dr. Steiner predicted that the new government will adopt a bolder tone in its relations with other countries having interests in China and may decide to seal hermetically the now partly-closed Open Door. "The occession of Hiranuma means that Japan is irrevocably committed to the complete conquest of all of China and to a program of thorough exploitation of her 400,000,000 inhabitants."

WITH YOUR ASSEMBLYMAN

"SCOOP" THURMAN

AT THE STATE CAPITOL

I had hoped that this week I could discuss some of the bills of particular interest to the Sixth Assembly District, but the state printing office is apparently behind the schedule inasmuch as copies of the 3994 bills which have so far been introduced have not reached me to date.

Sportsmen of the mountain area will probably be interested to know that a total of 168 bills pertaining to the fish and game laws were introduced during the first half of the session, 102 in the lower house and 66 in the senate. One of these bills would allow hunters to kill but one deer a season.

A total of one hundred and twenty-five bills dealing with agriculture have been introduced, 65 in the senate and 60 in the assembly. In this connection, I have received the following letter from Senator Bradford S. Crittenden, chairman of the Senate Committee on Agriculture which I will pass on to the readers of this newspaper herewith:

"Dear Thurman:

The Senate and Assembly Agricultural Committees are holding a joint meeting in Sacramento, beginning on February 13 and extending through the week. Monday and Tuesday will be devoted to the Pro-rate Act and agricultural marketing; Wednesday and Thursday to the marketing of milk and dairy products; Friday and Saturday to miscellaneous agricultural problems, if there is a public demand for same.

"Will you please cooperate and notify your people of these meetings; ask them to come and present their views, and should you desire, attend personally."

Social welfare, social security and relief committees in both houses will have before them a total of 182 bills, the assembly having 122 such bills in committee and the senate 60. In addition there were 83 bills introduced in the assembly relative to unemployment.

There are a total of 237 educational bills before the committes of both houses.

Livestock and dairy bills total 91 in both houses while there are less than a dozen bills in both houses which effect the gold mining industry.

Readers of this newspaper who desire to see copies of the various bills will find them either at the public library or at their newspaper office.

Your assemblyman has felt for some time that the employment of both man and wife by the state or any political subdivision is adding to our relief and tax problems. As a result I may introduce at the second half of the legislative session a bill to prevent both man and wife from being employed by the state. Our bill will not be as drastic as the one which recently was passed in the state of Utah, inasmuch as we would set the salary figure at about $150 a month. If a husband or wife are employed by the state or any of its subdivisions, then the other member of tre family cannot be employed by the state in any manner. Such a bill may not prove popular inasmuch as a bill somewhat similar failed to get out of committee two years ago. However we feel that the employment of both husband and wife by the state is wrong not only in principal but in practice as well.

Now we are not opposed to both husband and wife working if they find that they must work to make ends meet. We know that there are extenuating circumstances and we desire to place no obstacle in the way of man and wife who feel that they must work to keep the wolf from the door but we are opposed to the wife who works so that she can have some of the extra luxuries that many other wives are denied.

We are continually graduating our boys and gihls from our colleges and the cost of their education is a heavy burden on you and me and every taxpayer. Are we going to force these college graduates on relief because some wife whose husband is quite able to support her, wants to work, thereby adding to our relief problem and tax problem as well?

The relief problem as we have mentioned herewith on several occasions is one of the biggest problems we as taxpayers have to face. Your representative recently voted along with the other legislators a sum totaling nearly $20,000,000 to take care of the state's relief problem until June 30 of this year. Now we have been informed that the amount we appropriated will fall about $6,000,000 short and we are to be asked to vote the additional funds required. Your representative is not against voting funds which are absolutely necessary for relief but the taxpayers as well as the unemployed are entitled to some relief and the creation of new departments in the administration of relief with the employment of married women at fancy salaries we feel is not in the interest of relief either for the unemployed or the taxpayer.

Thomas Bigelow of North Columbia who is interested in the Shovel Placers mine, was a business visitor in Nevada City yesterday.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

By JEAN MARTZ

BASKETBALL

The girls' A teams played the first game in the tournament on Monday. The game was very exciting because the teams are evenly matched and the girls played fast, clean basketball. At the end of the half, Margie Keckler's team led by two points, but in the third quarter the other team took the lead, with Laura Price who is captain, making most of the points. In the last four minutes of the game the score was tied and Jane Bennett with fine shooting made two baskets, to win for Margie Keckler's team by a score of 25-21.

The scoring for the two teams was as follows: Margie's team: Jane Bennett 14 points; Margie Keckler 9 points and Virginia Carney 2. Laura Price's team: Laura Price 14 points; Alice Norton 7 points. The girls will meet again on Friday for the second game. Margie Keckler's team has chosen the name "Beeftrust" while Laura Price's has not yet selected a name.

SKIING PICTURES

On Monday the ski club held a meeting to see some fine motion pictures. The students have a chance to practice now that the snow has fallen, and they were glad to see the fine form of skilled sriiers. Betty Smith, who is president of the club, is an adept at the sport and many of the members are very good. The club is under the direction of Mr. Hobbie.

RAISING FUND

On Wednesday the student body gave a luncheon to raise funds for the student body treasury. John Muscardini who is president of the organization, was in charge. June Hawke, treasurer, and LaVerne Willard, vice president, were also on the committee. The menu was as follows: Baked beans or spaghetti, lettuce with "thousand island" dressing; French bread, apple pie and hot chocolate. Members of the student body made donations. The serving committee consisted of LaVerne Willard, Jean Martz, Virginia Carney, Victoria Soga, Irma Hurst, Doris Kelley and Alice Norton.

Dancing was enjoyed to the music of the phonograph attachment of the amplifier. A good profit was made and everyone reported the luncheon a success. The cooking classes washed the dishes an the fifth and sixth periods. The committee wishes to thank all those who helped.

JACKETS VS. MILLMEN

On Friday evening the Nevada City Yellowjackets will meet the Placer Millmen. The A team played a wonderful game against the champion Roseville team on February 3, and they promise an equally fast game on this coming Friday. Coach Martin has high hopes for his boys and he has been practicing them very hard. His quintet of Kopp, Lotz, Childers, Doolittle and Gates will probably start the game. The boys will be playing as hard as they did in the last game and if none of the best players go out on fouls, they should bring victory to the home team.

The B team is encouraged by the return of Max Ruth to the squad, so the preliminary game will be exciting.

HONOR SOCIETY PROGRAM

The Honor Society, composed of the C. S. F. and 10 point honor roll, held a meeting on Monday. The Honor Society will present the assembly program for Friday. They plan to give some short sketches on Abraham Lincoln, whose birthday is next Sunday. There will also be a short movie on the Constitution. The Girls' Chorus will present a Valentine skit with the song, Let Me Call You Sweetheart.

P. T. A. DANCE

On February 17 the P. T. A. is sponsoring a dance for the high school. The student committee to arrange for the small details within the high school is headed by Jean Martz and John Muscardini. The P. T. A. will supply the orchestra, the motif for the dance is Valentine's day.

OLDER GIRLS COUNCIL

The Girls' League executive committee held a meeting on Tuesday to nominate delegates to the Older Girls Conference. The number of delegates must be twelve or under, with two juniors, and the rest seniors. The following seniors are on the list, Bernice McQuay, Virginia Carney, Georgia Glennon, LaVerne Willard, Laura Price, Irma Hurst, Doreen Foreman, Alice Norton and Jean Martz. The juniors nominated were Margie Clark, Barbara Phariss, Jane Bennett, Doris Watson, Pearl Stratch and Dorothy Hoff. The faculty will select the delegates. Virginia Carney is vice president of the conference. Five members of the Nevada City group must arrange a panel discussion on home relationships or personality. Miss Severtsen is the advisor.

QUILL PROGRESSING

The Quill is well under way. Bernice McQuay the art editor has completed a fine cover and sent it to the binding company. The cover will be white with dark figures. The division pages will be all art work this year, and the Quill artists are very busy.

A new arrangement of pictures has been planned to make the Quill more interesting. A new calendar has also been planned and the cartoonist is busy drawing pictures for it. As soon as the weather permits there will be a "snap" day at the school.

Gene Gregory, who came down from the Spanish mine last week to receive treatment for injuries to his back, went back to the mine early this week on a truck taking provisions to the mine.
